

Living with Science II Program Makes a Big Impact in Texas

Members of the LJ Create Client Services team visited Brownsville Independent School District in Texas earlier this month, their mission was to find out what teachers and students thought of Living with Science II - our cloud-based elementary science program.

Throughout the week-long visit teacher feedback was very positive, with lessons described as fun and entertaining but with just the right level of difficulty to challenge and motivate students. The new cloud-based content - packed full of colorful animations, engaging investigations, and interactive science simulators - proved to be very popular with students.

Since upgrading to the Living with Science II program, teachers in the Brownsville District have reported increases in test scores and have been impressed with how well the program correlates with TEKS and STAAR.
